3. Read the questions carefully before answering.
4. Follow the prescribed word limits wherever mentioned.

SECTION - A : READING

Q.1 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below. (1×5=5)

Water is one of the most important natural resources on Earth. Every living organism needs water to survive, yet fresh water is becoming increasingly limited in many parts of the world. Rapid population growth, pollution, excessive groundwater extraction and careless use of water are major reasons for this problem. In cities, large quantities of water are wasted through leaking taps, overflowing tanks and unnecessary use. Agriculture also consumes a significant amount of freshwater. Farmers can reduce water consumption by using methods such as drip irrigation and rainwater harvesting. At the household level, people can save water by repairing leaks, reusing water wherever possible and avoiding unnecessary wastage. Saving water is not only the responsibility of governments; every citizen has an important role to play. Small changes in our daily habits can help protect water resources for future generations.

(1) Why is water important?

- A. It is used only in agriculture.
- B. Every living organism needs it.
- C. It is available everywhere.
- D. It is used only in cities.

(2) Which of the following is a major cause of water shortage?

- A. Tree plantation
- B. Rainfall
- C. Excessive groundwater extraction
- D. Recycling

(3) Which method can help farmers save water?

- A. Flooding fields
- B. Drip irrigation
- C. Leaving taps open
- D. Removing crops

(4) How can households reduce water wastage?

- A. By repairing leaks
- B. By keeping tanks overflowing
- C. By using more water
- D. By polluting rivers

(5) Who has the responsibility to save water?

- A. Only governments
- B. Only farmers
- C. Only students
- D. Every citizen

Q.2 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below. (1×5=5)

A small village once had a library that was visited by very few people. Most children preferred spending their free time playing games on mobile phones. One day, a retired teacher named Mr. Rao decided to change the situation. He began visiting the library every evening and started a reading club for children. He told interesting stories and encouraged the children to discuss what they had read. Gradually, more students joined the club. They discovered that books could take them to different places, introduce them to new ideas and improve their language. Within a few months, the library became one of the busiest places in the village. The children began spending less time on unnecessary screen activities and more time reading. The experience taught them that technology is useful when used wisely, but books can develop imagination and thoughtful understanding in a unique way.

- (1) Why did very few children visit the library?
A. It was closed.
B. They preferred mobile games.
C. There were no books.
D. It was too far away.
- (2) Who started the reading club?
A. The village head
B. A shopkeeper
C. Mr. Rao
D. A student
- (3) What did the children discover through books?
A. Only games
B. New ideas and places
C. New mobile applications
D. Nothing useful
- (4) What happened to the library after a few months?
A. It was closed.
B. It became very busy.
C. It was shifted to another village.
D. It was converted into a shop.
- (5) What lesson did the children learn?
A. Technology should never be used.
B. Books are unnecessary.
C. Technology should be used wisely and reading develops understanding.
D. Libraries are only for teachers.

SECTION - B : WRITING

Q.3 Read the following passage carefully and make notes on it. Also give a suitable title. (4 Marks)

Trees are essential for maintaining life on Earth. They absorb carbon dioxide and release oxygen into the atmosphere. Their roots help prevent soil erosion and their leaves provide shade and reduce the temperature around us. Trees are also homes for birds, insects and many other animals. Forests help maintain the water cycle and influence rainfall. Unfortunately, large numbers of trees are being cut down for roads, buildings and industries. Excessive deforestation can lead to soil erosion, loss of wildlife and changes in climate. Planting trees is important, but protecting existing forests is equally necessary. Students can contribute by planting saplings, avoiding unnecessary use of paper and spreading awareness about the importance of forests.
